Ultimate Iceland Photo Expedition

An In-Depth Photography Adventure via Chartered Scenic Flight, Private Boats & 4x4 Overland Travel

Iceland holds so much awe for nature photographers, with geological drama and raw natural beauty on an epic scale. This small island nation tucked just beneath the Arctic Circle rests at the nexus of two tectonic plates—creating a dynamic environment of volcanic and glacial forces sculpting the landscape with fire and ice. Iceland abounds with stunning subjects: stark mountains, lava fields covered in velvety moss, black sand beaches, steaming craters, iceberg lagoons, and glacier-fed rivers that thunder over basalt cliffs in raging waterfalls. Arctic foxes roam the tundra, and shaggy Icelandic horses graze in lush meadows. Offshore, whales ply the fjords and seabirds nest in noisy summer colonies, including the world's largest population of Atlantic puffins. And when autumn arrives and the birds fly south, the tundra becomes a photogenic tapestry of gold and russet. No other Iceland photography adventure offers as in-depth an immersion as this one!

Trip Highlights

Travel by custom 4x4 into Iceland's interior backcountry, a volcanic wilderness of multicolored rock, moss-covered mountains and glacier-carved canyons

On an exhilarating small plane flight over Skaftafell, get a rare angle on Iceland's glaciers, braided rivers, and an inactive volcano that is the country's tallest mountain

Spend a half-day photographing these whimsical, charming seabirds on a visit to one of the world's largest Atlantic puffin colonies (summer departures only)

Ultimate Iceland Photo Expedition Itineraries

2026 Itinerary

Our itinerary gets you well off the conventional track for unique photo opportunities in a wide range of settings. From the little-visited East Fjords with its bustling puffin colony to the rugged Highlands and thundering South Coast waterfalls, we showcase Iceland's most dramatic features. And our mix of exploratory modes—scenic flightseeing, private marine safaris and 4x4 exploration—offers multiple perspectives for exciting and evocative shots.

2027 Itinerary

In addition to the many diverse locations and subjects on our 2026 itinerary, we have revised our route for 2027 to include additional highlights: We've added a day in the Westman Islands, with a RIB marine safari to view prolific seabirds, including a large puffin colony (making a total of two on this trip). We have also added a day in the Lake Myvatn geothermal area and extended our Skaftafell aerial photography flight from one hour to two hours.

Discovering Our Planet Together

2027 Autumn Itinerary

When the crowds of summer are a distant memory and the seabird colonies have headed south, photograph Iceland's wild wonders in solitude amid a palette of fall colors. And with dark night skies returning, we may even get a chance to capture images of the northern lights!

Crafted for the Most Immersive Photography Experience in Iceland

We've put enormous effort into designing an Iceland photo itinerary that far surpasses any other. This is the most comprehensive, most immersive, most all-encompassing encounter with Icelandic nature you'll find—including rarely visited destinations where crowds are nonexistent. If you're an avid photographer who wants to get the most out of your Iceland trip, here's how we accomplish that:

- 1 Photograph So Much More on Our Unique Itinerary

Going well beyond conventional highlights, we have included far more places, experiences and activities for a comprehensive immersion in the diverse destinations and subjects Iceland has to offer. You'll cover a wider range of Iceland, including the remote Highlands and little-visited east coast. With us, you'll get to places few others offer access to.
- 2 Spend Time in Wild Nature, Not Crowds

Iceland is popular—there's no avoiding that. Yet there are plenty of places in Iceland that most visitors never get to...but you will! We follow much of the outer edge of Iceland while making inland forays into areas where people are few and elements of traditional culture endure.
- 3 Private Flightseeing Tour

There is nothing like an aerial vantage for capturing the scale and power of Iceland's landscapes. On a fixed-wing plane flight over Skaftafell, you'll get shots of glaciers winding down from the Vatnajökull ice cap, dramatic mountain peaks, broad glacial valleys, and volcanic plains laced with braided rivers.
- 4 World's Best Place for Puffin Photography (Summer Trips Only)

Iceland is famous for its puffins, but few visitors get to the spots where they are most prolific. We spend hours at one of Iceland's largest Atlantic puffin colonies in rarely visited Borgarfjörður Eystrí, for unhurried and entertaining encounters with the world's most charming seabirds. Please note that puffins are seasonal and only on view in the summertime; our autumn itinerary will not see them.
- 5 Private Boat Tours for Watching Marine Life, Plus a Glacier Lagoon

Two private boat trips include a marine safari among seals and huge colonies of seabirds, and a cruise among floating icebergs on a glacial lagoon.

6

Private Highlands 4x4 Tour

On board our customized 4x4 mini buses, explore the hidden wonders of Iceland's little-visited highlands. These rugged vehicles have been modified with giant tires and extra shock absorption for off-road terrain, allowing deeper access into this remote region. On our adventurous journey through the lunar-like landscape, we photograph geographic landmarks that few Iceland visitors ever see, from a dramatic gorge and waterfall to one of Iceland's most stunning peaks.

7

Shoot Alongside a Naturalist Guide Who Is Also a Photography Pro

Your photography adventure is guided by a supremely qualified Expedition Leader: not only is your guide deeply versed in Iceland's natural history, your guide is also an accomplished photographer in their own right, attuned to all the elements that will maximize your chances for the best possible photos (reading the weather, chasing the best light, adjusting a route to enhance photo opportunities, etc.).

8

A Small Group—Capped at 9—Offers a More Immersive Experience

A superlative photo tour requires a small group. Our group is limited to just nine photographers, allowing the flexibility that's imperative for serious photography. We are able to travel in small vehicles—vans, aircraft and boats—ensuring a more intimate encounter with nature and access to more remote places. It also means you'll have plenty of personal time with our Expedition Leader for serious photography conversations.

9

A Local Guide Joins Us, Too, for the Fullest Experience

Our trip is led by a Nat Hab Photo Pro Expedition Leader, but we're joined by a local guide who adds an essential insider perspective, not to mention an even higher level of personalized service.

Important Information About This Trip

It's crucial to understand that weather in Iceland is highly changeable. Mountainous terrain near the Arctic Circle, impacted by marine weather systems, means Iceland can get plenty of clouds, rain and wind year-round. While we time our trip to capitalize on the best season for weather, it's always unpredictable. Adverse weather could affect our itinerary, including activities we can offer, such as flightseeing. But fortunately, we've built some flexibility into our plans, and since we travel in a very small group, it's often quite manageable to deal with weather contingencies, adjusting details here and there to maximize our best photography opportunities. In the event we must cancel a particular activity due to weather, we will do our best to substitute another appealing photography experience.

Mandatory Insurance

Since the areas we travel to are remote and wild (that's why we go there!), we require that all guests have, at minimum, medical evacuation insurance for this program. This is for the safety of all guests. We require that your chosen independent insurance plan includes at least $250,000 in medical evacuation coverage.

To protect your investment and to provide peace of mind while you travel, we also strongly recommend purchasing comprehensive travel insurance. Plans may cover everything from medical treatment to trip cancellations and delays and lost luggage. Please contact our office if you would like more information about the medical evacuation and comprehensive travel insurance policies we offer by calling 800-543-8917.

Getting There & Getting Home

This trip begins and ends in Reykjavik. You must arrive at Keflavik International Airport (KEF) no later than 3:30 pm on Day 1 in order to be ready for a welcome dinner and briefing beginning at 5:30 pm. Upon arrival at KEF, you will be met by a Nat Hab representative and transferred approximately one hour to the hotel.

You may depart at any time on the final day of the trip.

Our Natural Habitat Adventures Travel Desk can best assist with your travel reservations, as our staff is familiar with the specific requirements of this program and can help arrange the most efficient itinerary. Please call us at 800-543-8917. While we offer the best available rates to us on airfare and additional nights accommodations, you may occasionally find special web rates or lower fares online.
